Commerce, Department of (024)

The Department of Commerce, with cabinet level status, was established April 1, 1990, in the reorganization of the executive branch of state government. Due to Reorganization, the following entities are now a part of the Department of Commerce: Archives, Museums and Historical, Arts Council, Economic Development and Stabilization, International Trade Office, Recreation Commission and the Travel Commission. The department standardizes administrative services effectively, uses employee skills, knowledge and experience to enhance productivity, promotes the arts and arts education, provides consistent operations of state parks, museums and cultural resources, strengthens emphasis on marketing of Wyoming's tourism and economic opportunities, consolidates production of specialty publications and brochures and assists consumers to find the appropriate governmental services within the department.

Boards and Commissions provide vital citizen input to the process of government and continue their charge in an advisory capacity. The department provides efficient, high quality services, leadership and support to maximize the state's efforts to enhance the economy through tourism and recreation, the arts, business development and retention, and professional and occupational practices, while emphasizing the stewardship of our cultural resources.

There are four divisions within the department: Administration, Parks and Cultural Resources, Tourism and State Marketing, and Economic and Community Development.

LEGISLATIVE BRANCH

Legislative Foreword

The Legislative branch of state government drafts and passes the laws providing for the well-being, growth and development of the state, and for the protection of her citizens.

The Wyoming State Legislature consists of 30 State Senators and 64 State Representatives. The term of office for the Senators is four years, 15 of the members being elected at a general election at which a President of the United States is elected, the balance at an off-year election. The entire body of the House of Representatives is elected every two years to serve a two-year term. Terms begin on the first Monday in January following election.

The 1981 reapportionment of the State Legislature provides for a total of 30 State Senators and 64 State Representatives. See page 142 for breakdown.

The general legislative session convenes on the second Tuesday of January of the odd-numbered years and shall not exceed 40 legislative working days. In 1972, voters in Wyoming approved an amendment to the Wyoming Constitution which permitted an additional twenty-day session of the Wyoming Legislature in even-numbered years for the consideration of the State's budget. The budget session convenes on the third Monday of February of the even-numbered years and shall not exceed 20 legislative working days.

The present Legislature has a Republican majority in both bodies; 20 Republicans to 10 Democrats in the Senate; and 42 Republicans to 22 Democrats in the House.

In 1991 there are three women serving in the Senate and 20 women in the House of Representatives.

The general session of the 51st Legislature convened on January 8, 1991.

The budget session of the 51st Legislature will convene on February 17, 1992.
